Project details

Don't Crawl in the Web – (Dust Problem)
 Optimize manual data exploration over the internet.
▪ The goal of the project was to look for a solution that could work at scale and not be biased when comparing documents from different domain.
▪ Any word belonging to a particular domain has its own unique meaning.
▪ But, this becomes an over analysis, since our solution is being built on an existing qualified engine.
▪ The search engines returns a list of web document target link. Post this, Individual Documents from the results are processed and converted to a vector representation.
▪ Using this representation, documents can be compared and assigned a similarity index using fuzzy linguistic variables for the end user.

Techniques Used

▪ Similarity comparison, Filtering, Classification
▪ Shallow NLP Techniques: Lemmatization, Stemming.
▪ Similarity metrics: Used Jaccard's Coefficient

My Role

▪ Planning of the project, Ideas, Modelling and User design.
▪ Building up the algorithm for better efficiency,
▪ Using library codes for easing up the structure.
▪ Documentation and Presentation

Other skills

▪ Rajya puraskar Scout
▪ All India bronze medal in Karate (shito ryu)
